

Digital exhibition tour

»Learn about Anne«

Information for teachers

Aims and contents

The overview module is particularly suitable for students in grades 8 and 9 of all school types.

The exhibition focuses on Anne Frank and her diary. The students learn about Anne Frank in individual stations and deal with the relevance of the topics in Anne's diary for their own lives.

Young exhibition guides present parts of the exhibition in short film clips. Afterwards, the students will deal with what they have seen and heard on worksheets.

These can be edited digitally or printed out.

The students learn

- Who Anne Frank was
- How she dealt with the diary and what meaning it had for Anne
- Why we still talk about Anne today

Setting

The time required to complete the module is approx. 45 minutes in individual or group work.

The worksheets can be edited digitally or as a printout. The videos are translated into German sign language and the material is also suitable for blind and visually impaired young people. If desired, a solution sheet can be used for self-checking.

Pre and postprocessing:

The students can be prepared for the topic in an earlier teaching unit. A possible follow-up should take place in a discussion.

Solution of the Single-Choice questions

Anne's Diary

Why is it important for Anne to write a diary?

The diary is like a friend to her.

Anne rewrites some of her diary entries several times. Why?

She's rewriting her notes because she wants to publish them after the war.

Who is Anne?

In July 1942, the Franks go into hiding. A short time later they take in the van Pels family. In November they offer Fritz Pfeffer refuge. The helpers provided the eight persecuted people with everything they needed to live. Could Anne leave the hiding place?

No, it was too dangerous.

What happened to the helpers after the hiding place was discovered?

The two helpers Viktor Kugler and Johannes Kleinmann were arrested, the others were not charged.

What connects Anne with today?

Anne often writes about herself in her diary. How does she see herself?

She thinks that she is very different: sometimes like this and sometimes like that.

What do antisemites say about Anne's diary?

Anne Frank has never lived.
